SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 19.—
Will Rogers' favorite expression, "You have not seen anything yet," applies to all that have been here. If Adam and Eve had known about this place they would have packed up little Cain and Abel and moved out of the Garden, not waiting for any angel to drive them.

Everything that you have thought about or wanted is here, and many things that you never imagined. Think of the best things ever said about climate and sunshine, multiply all that by ten and you have San Diego.
Every man, woman and child here says, "Why anybody able to come here should live anywhere else is a mystery." They are right. It is a mystery.

By way of prediction, which please write down on your cuff, this writer wishes to say that this developed all the 24-hour round trip, from ocean to ocean, will build up permanent and transient population in this city and territory surrounding it as no place on earth has ever been built before.

There is a park of 1400 acres in the heart of San Diego, and more important, the schools, as far as any on earth are, constantly increased in number and size. Well boys and school boys at this P. Cortes Hotel dressed like champion bull fighters, straight brims to their hats, clothes, orange and black, but better dressed than bull fighters, and fully as proud.

Point Loma, reaching out into the Pacific from San Diego, its city owned by Uncle Sam.
Smiles everything the Mediterranean look like small real estate on a nice little lake, and a trip out there makes you realize that while we talk sweet words at peace conferences in London, we have men in our navy interested in this country's affairs.

Far below you on the harbor's smooth water, a line of strange little boats is coming in, a personage sticking up over each one, they are coming the way home from Hawaii.

They are packed make you feel that the Pacific is a person, that the Pacific is a man,
and that the Pacific is a woman,
and that the Pacific is a child,
and that the Pacific is a man,
and that the Pacific is a woman,
and that the Pacific is a child,
and that the Pacific is a man,
and that the Pacific is a woman,
and that the Pacific is a child,

There, from Point Loma, in these airships above and the submarines ploughing along the surface, you see the future of the United States.

Uncle Sam should build enough planes and submarines until he dominates the world.
He should say:
"If you are for peace, I'll help you maintain it. If you are for war, I'll help you win
it."

Many interesting people among 700 gathered for lunchon by San Diego's commerce with President H. G.
Hickok, the mayor of the city and the able William H. McLean, early builder of Scripps
McLean, managing the party.
Hickok is here. He built the ship which Lindbergh flew his name. Just outside the city's heart you can see the body and the spot that Lindbergh left when he raised the Spirit of St. Louis into the air, for France, via New York.

A good student of Lindbergh, made by the factory owner,
marks the spot.
Also you meet William H.
McLean, the man who superintended
the building of Lindbergh's plane. Now he holds the American "golden" record, up nine hours and five minutes without a stop.

Stalin, known as the strong man of Russia since the death of Lenin, who was chairman of the central committee, has held the dominant position in the Communist party despite attacks by the opposition, which he crushed.

Leon Trotsky, one-time leader of the Red Army, was one of Stalin's chief opponents, but was deprived of his power and finally sent into exile. Trotsky is now in Turkey.

Stalin has long been a sort of clearing house for news coming across the border from Soviet Russia and reports from there have been of great interest to the world.

While Stalin has his opponents, particularly on matters of policy, there have been no recent reports from Moscow that his position was in any way threatened.

Bay State Senator Is Seeking $750,000 More; the Provision Killed in House

Washington, March 20 (INS)—The Senate confers on the pending deficiency bill today at the instance of Senator David L. Walsh took up the Senate amendment allocating $750,000 additional for the new Boston postoffice voted down in the House.

"I have insisted that the Senate stand by its amendment to the bill and it is back in conference," said Senator Walsh.

"If the House again votes against it, the amendment is lost unless we hold up the whole deficiency bill."

Charges have been made in the House that an "Indiana limestone bloc" in control of the emergency building program, succeeded in having Indiana limestone used in material for all new structures.

The Boston post office, under the present plan, would have the first three floors of granite and the rest of the 21 stories of Indiana limestone.

The entire New England House delegation fought for the $750,000 additional to build the entire structure of granite pointing out that not only was the granite close at hand but that it would mean a year's employment for 1000 men and cause quarry now closed to re-open.

Miss Elizabeth A. O'Neil of Worcester said the committee she was fighting for a principle, seeking a system of standards for the protection of public.

We want these standards because the public are in danger through the patronage of shops operating in an unregulated manner," she declared. She said that Governor Allen favors regulation. Her statement was verified by Miss Lillian J. Kane of Boston, who sought the Governor's assistance on the bill.

Dark-eyed Lila Jimerson, Indian maid on trial for the murder of Mrs. Clothilde Marchand, wife of Henri Marchand, artist and sculptor, made these assertions in an exclusive interview in Erie County Court.

Soon after she went to court to listen apathetically to attorneys resume the tedious task of selecting the jury. Two jurors had been accepted when court reconvened.

"Are you in love with Mr. Marchand?" Lila was asked. "I find it hard to explain. When he was near he dominated me—and well, I met him half way."

HUSTON SAYS HE SOLD MAPS TO CARBIDE CO.

Republican Chairman Tells the Lobby Committee He Received $36,000

Washington, March 20 (AP)—After denying published reports that he would resign as chairman of the Republican national committee, Claudius H. Huston testified today before the Senate lobby committee that he had sold maps prepared by the Tennessee River Improvement Association to the Carbide Company, which had contributed $36,000 to the association.

The Republican chairman, who formerly was president of the Tennessee Association, told the committee the Carbide company had contributed the amount to help defray expenses of preparing maps of the Tennessee River.

"What right did you have to sell the association's property?" Chairman Caraway asked.

"I was president," Huston replied.

Later Senator Blaine, (R., Wisconsin), asked him if the maps had not been paid for by members of commerce and other organizations which had contributed to the association since it was organized a number of years ago.

"That is correct," Huston replied.

He explained that J. W. Worthington, chairman of the executive committee of the association was ill and might die at any time and added he wanted the maps to serve some useful purpose and felt they would be of benefit to the Union Carbide Co.

"The maps, he said, were still in the possession of the Tennessee association. He promised to provide the committee with his record of them."

SAYS MONEY WAS SPENT

Questioned about testimony yesterday that part of the $28,100 contributed by the Union Carbide Co. for the Tennessee Association had been deposited with his personal brokers in New York and had been used as margin in the purchase of stock, Huston reiterated that records showed that he had "promptly and properly disbursed" the amount.

Huston was excused until further notice.

SEEK THE VOTE PITS TARIFF ON LUMBER

Washington, March 20 (AP)—By the margin of one vote, the Senate today placed a tariff of $100 a thousand board feet on soft wood lumber, now on the free list, defeating the coalition of Democrats and Republicans. Independents in the last major rate controversy of the tariff struggle. The vote was 59 to 38.

Reversing a 59 to 34 vote of several weeks ago against a duty of $50 on such lumber, approval was given the $100 rate proposed by Senator Jones, Republican, Washington.

The duty would apply to lumber of fir, spruce, pine, hemlock and larch and railroad ties and telephone poles of all woods.

A modification suggested by Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, accepted by Jones before the vote, would exempt Canadian planks, boards and deals of such woods when in the rough or not further manufactured than planed or dressed on one side. This was a reciprocity step as Canada permits such American lumber to enter Canada free.

Two Senators, Hiram Bingham and Sheppard of Texas, both Democrats, who voted recently against the $2 rate today, voted for the $100 levy.

An amendment in the Jones proposal by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, which would exempt from duty both rough and dressed lumber from Canada and Mexico as long as these countries maintained no tariff on the American products was defeated, 59 to 32.

Consideration of the tariff bill on the floor of the House earlier than in conference was demanded by Representative Garner of Texas, Democratic leader.

Predicting the Senate would pass the bill by the end of the week, the Texas said he would oppose any move to send it to conference without consideration of the various schedules on the floor.

Turning to the Republicans, he asked them if they did not want a chance to consider the provisions of this legislation.

"If you send it to conference you will lose that chance," he warned.

At the left are seen the pillars of King's Chapel, next on the other corner of School and Tremont sts. is the residence which preceded an addition to the Parker House, which itself was taken down to make room for the present hotel building. Next on the left of the street is the WORK FOR MANY ON GREAT LAKES TO GET TO U. S.

Toronto, Ont., March 20 (By the Canadian Press)—The 1930 navigation season will open much earlier than usual, according to present indications, and thousands of unemployed who have weathered an extremely hard winter will find welcome jobs within the next month or so.

A survey of ports on the Great Lakes, recently completed, shows that "fitting out" has already commenced in many cities which are located on the various inland seas, and practically mid-season harbor conditions prevail from Kingston to Duluth to Erie.

Fossils of Huge Antedaters Found

Buenos Aires, March 20 (AP)—Valuable fossils of prehistoric times have been discovered in the region of Huallu, province of Catamarca, by the scientific mission of La Plata Museum, headed by Dr. Angel Cabrera.

The discoveries include complete specimens of megalotherium, huge animals of the anteater type long extinct. The mission also explored an ancient Indian cemetery and one tomb that contained six skeletons dressed in magnificent funeral garb.

HELEN GOULD'S TALK STIRS D.A.R.

Baltimore, March 20 (AP)—The Maryland conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution, busied today with the effects of an address by Mrs. Philip J. Sheppard, formerly Miss Helen M. Gould, but at her request the address was not made public.

After speaking at a luncheon of the conference yesterday, Mrs. Sheppard returned to New York. While officials of the conference declined to say what was included in her talk on "Loyalty and Patriotism," it was said to have contained a strong attack on Communist activities.

Prefacing her talk with the reasons for wishing secrecy, she said her husband, a New York financier, objected to her being quoted on the subject and that both feared what might follow. The request was observed, the meeting being closed to the press, while members refused afterward to discuss what was said.

$1,000,000 Building
Planned by Yale

New Haven, Ct., March 20 (INB)—Yale University today had secured a building permit totaling an estimated $1,000,000 to construct the erection of an additional unit of the new Haven Hospital, branch of the Yale Institute of Human Relations.

During his visit Dr. Cottle-White will visit Boston and Milton Academy, St. Paul's, Taber Academy and Exeter.

They are the last of 400 Russians whose journey from Riga to New York was interrupted by the reduction of the American quota for Russian immigrants.

They could not be sent back to Russia nor settle in England so they were sent to a building near Southampton maintained by the shipping companies as a temporary holding place for immigrants.

Year by year the waiting band became smaller. Many obtained visas after marrying others who had become American citizens.

Now Washington has issued visas for the final 30 of the original 400. The shipping companies, who were bound to transport them to their destinations, fed and housed them during their long wait.

PARLEY HALTS FOR BRIAND'S RETURN

London, March 20 (AP)—Aristide Briand, head of the French delegation to the five-power naval conference, left London today for Paris. His trip was understood to be for the purpose of consulting Premier Tardieu about the conference.

He said he expected to return to England with M. Tardieu at the weekend.

Briand appeared in cheerful mood. "I don't see much use in sitting around a hotel looking out of a window at the weather even if it is fine," he remarked smilingly. "I shall come back as soon as there is some work for me to do."

His declined any comment on the conference prospects.

Work of the American delegation was almost completely suspended today. There was nothing further to be done at the moment on the Franco-Italian stalemate and conversations with the Japanese were suspended pending the word from Tokyo whether the government accepted the Japanese agreement which the American and Japanese delegations have worked out.

It was understood in conference circles that both the British and Americans have prepared suggestions for possible solution of the Franco-Italian dispute. These may be contingent upon getting the two contestants to face each other across the conference table.

France Takes a None Too Optimistic View of Parley

Paris, March 20 (AP)—The return of Foreign Minister Briand to Paris was not interpreted here as indicating final failure of the disarmament conference, but it is understood in official circles that his presence in London is unfavorable for the French because of the Italian attitude.

Pessimism in official quarters as to the result of the parley was intensified by news that Foreign Minister Briand had refused to bring forward figures showing Italy's requirements and had reiterated his demands for parity with France.

The French position is that if the principles of parity were laid down without limitation, it would enable France to build as big a navy as the most armed power in Europe, namely, Great Britain. It is held that definite limits are necessary.

Lloyd George Quits War on MacDonald to Save Parley

London, March 20 (AP)—David Lloyd George formally announced at a committee meeting in the House of Commons late today that the Liberal party had decided to take no further part in moving or supporting amendments in the committee stage of the coal bill.

The reason he gave was that action of a hostile character by the Liberals would affect critically the state of the naval conference. He understood, he said, that the fate of the conference was hanging in the balance, that it was a question of life or death.

Quincy Ultimatum on Water Bills

"Pay your bill or go to court," is the ultimatum sent out by Harold F. Newell, Quincy city treasurer, to property owners delinquent in paying water bills.

This drastic action, the official said, would be taken after April 1 on bills due. At the present time more than $20,000 in overdue water bills is on the city's books.

FOOD-BOLTING HABIT CAN BE OVERCOME

Doctor Recommends Milk Drink in Late Afternoon

The wear and tear of an active day sometimes leaves business men and women in a state of nervous fatigue. By the time home is reached and the evening meal served, the fatigued person is too hungry to eat slowly. As a result of food-bolting, or eating too fast, the discomfort of indigestion often follows.

In such cases, a leading Philadelphia doctor recommends drinking a flavored milk beverage in the late afternoon, or eating two or three cookies or a piece of candy. The sugar in this food calms hunger and overcomes nervous fatigue in an appropriate way. Later, the evening meal can be eaten with calm enjoyment.

Such endorsement of sugar should not be overlooked. Too often home diets are lacking in this important food. In this connection the tendency to eliminate desserts from balanced meals is dietetically wrong. Aside from the quick energy sugar supplies, it can help in promoting a more balanced diet. A dash of sugar to a pinch of salt in cooking vegetables heightens their flavor and causes them to be eaten with more relish. As a matter of fact, such use of sugar increases the value of the food thus seasoned. Good food promotes good health. The Sugar Institute.

TAX RECEIPTS AHEAD OF 1929

Washington, March 20 (AP)—Income tax receipts from the March 15 collections shown by the treasury today totalled $314,200,000, exceeding by more than $40,000,000 collections for the same date last year.

This sum was the total for the month of March as shown in the treasury statement for March 15, made public today. It represented the total amount turned in at the close of business of the preceding day.

Although yesterday's statement showed receipts running about $100,000 behind those for the same period in the preceding year, the receipt of $214,334,248 added to the treasury balance on March 15 more than offset this shortage. The collection on the same day in 1929 amounted to only $181,900,000.

MacDonald and Lady Astor Praise Ryan on "Peace" Move

Letters from Lady Nancy Astor, British M. P., and Prime Minister MacDonald, commending the movement for world peace sponsored by William A. Ryan of Linden St., Dorchester, have been received.

"We are all pioneering for world peace," Lady Astor wrote. "I am heartily in favor of the principle behind your efforts to bring about a consolidation of 'world cities.'"

Ryan is sponsor of the "World League of Cities," and is taking an active, though unofficial, part in preparations for the Bay State bicentennial.

totalled very near three-fifths of the budget expectations for the first quarterly income tax collection.

Treasury officials, however, still held that this was no definite indication that the expectation would be met.

EX-MAHARAJAH HALTS WEDDING

Indore, India, March 20 (AP)—The former Maharajah of Indore, Tkojras Holkar, who started his flight from India when he married an American girl, Miss Nancy Miller of Seattle, has caused another sensation here when he announced that he had decided to give his daughter to someone outside his own caste, in accordance with the teachings of the ancient Indian saint, Kabir, who tended to break down caste barriers.

The dowry bride problem is solved by taking a Sikhessette apartment and is being advertised daily in the Far East edition.

JULIAN BRIBE PLOT BARED

Los Angeles, March 20 (AP)—Declaring that he has confessions or admissions of guilty participation in "the most outrageous bribery schemes ever uncovered in this country," Dist. Atty. Burton Ellis today sought indictments against five or more persons involved in alleged jury tampering in connection with the $100,000,000 Julian Petroleum Corporation fraud case.

Ellis said he would ask the grand jury to lend, among others, Sheridan C. Lewis, former president of the Julian company, Lewis was arrested on a charge of suspicion of conspiracy to offer and give a bribe to a juror.

MAN WHO MADE HEROIC RESCUE IDENTIFIED

Haverhill, March 20—Investigation has revealed that Charles E. Adams of 438 Water st., this city, is the hero who was carried over a dam and through a 40-foot long culvert before he was able to rescue a man who attempted suicide in Fryer pond.

Adams is a shoe worker and was on the way to his place of employment in East Freetown, when he noticed a man struggling in the water.

He placed himself at the dam and, as the man was being swept through a culvert, which runs under North ave., Adams was able to drag his now quivering burden ashore in the quiet water.

Police who had been summoned gave first aid to Lewis. In the meantime Adams had disappeared.

Fair Sex Becoming Air-Minded With Bargain Prices

New York, March 20 (AP)—A bargain price, it appears, will always get the ladies.

Before a recent cut in prices the percentage of women using one of the transcontinental air lines was only 16 per cent. With the cut in price, this ratio jumped to 29 per cent and is increasing.

A survey made by Curtiss-Wright Corp. shows that 23 per cent of air passengers in this country are women, and on one of the lines—Miami to Havana—it is as high as 43 per cent.

Ortiz Rubio Will Free Mexican Reds

Mexico City, March 20 (AP)—President Ortiz Rubio has ordered the release of most of the Communists held in the penitentiary here for investigation in connection with the attack on his life Feb. 6. It was said the President did not believe those he released were any menace to the government.

WORK OF CITY HOSPITAL LAUDED

The Boston City Hospital is surpassed by no other municipal hospital in the world," declared Carl Dreyfus, trustee, in an address in Edward Everett Hall Memorial Auditorium last night.

The hospital is prepared to care for every type of disease and affliction and its physicians have an enviable reputation in medical circles throughout the world, he stated.

He pointed out that the hospital plant consists of 22 buildings, in which 320,054 ward and out-patients were treated during 1935. This represented an expenditure of nearly $2,000,000.

"During the past few years the hospital has been almost entirely rebuilt, due in no large measure to the energy and assistance of Mayor Curley, who, during his previous administration, provided the first funds and encouraged the trustees on their building program," he declared.

Several departments of the hospital are not only outstanding in the country, but are known throughout the world. The work of the famous pathologist, Dr. W. C. Mallory, is known wherever medicine is practiced.

"In no other hospital in the United States is there such an institution as the Thorndike Memorial Laboratory. It is unique."

"The development of this department was due to the skill of the late Dr. Francis W. Peabody and the work is being carried forward to even greater heights by Dr. George E. Minot, the discoverer of the wonderful cure for pernicious anemia."

"It was at the Thorndike laboratory that the first patient with pernicious anemia received the liver extract treatment, since then dramatic beneficial effects have occurred with regularity. One of the physicians has been awarded the Warren Triennial prize. Another physician was awarded a fellowship in the University of Toronto and later the Xober medal of the Association of American Physicians."

The speaker also pointed out that the City Hospital is the only one in Boston where contagious diseases are treated. He also said that plans are under way to enlarge the children's department and to add many other modern features to the present plant.

NEW 'CRIPPLING COCKTAIL' LIKE SAVAGE BLOW

Washington, March 20 (INS)—America's new paralytic cocktail—Jamaica ginger, isopropyl alcohol, or whatever it is—has an effect like a stout blow on the head from a woman's club.

A couple of "shots" is followed by sagging legs, paralysis and then a gloomy feeling that has nothing of the exhilarating cheer of ordinary intoxicants.

Prohibition Commissioner James M. Dorian explained in this was to lead in discussing preliminary reports from several sections of the country where epidemics of paralysis have followed drinking spree.

Some samples seized in Oklahoma proved nothing more than ginger-root soaked in alcohol. In another section specimens were found to contain resin, and in other the presence of isopropyl was suspected.

"The astonishing thing is the way of paralysis," Dorian said. "Ginger preparations for years have been used in the South."

"An overdose might produce paralysis, but it seems doubtful, unless there was some other ingredient in the drink. The resin, while injurious to the stomach, should not cause paralysis."

"By analyzing samples we expect the last of the week we will determine whether the concoctions contain a synthetic alcohol known as isopropyl, which is manufactured from the gases arising in the cracking process."

"The preparation is commercial, is used chiefly as a cleaning fluid and costs about $1 a gallon. The Agricultural Department has forbidden its use in flavoring extracts, medicines or foods."

REPEAL FORGES LEAD IN LITERARY DIGEST POLL

New York, March 20 (INS)—The Literary Digest, which is conducting a nation-wide poll on prohibition, today made the following announcement:

"The vote for repeal of the prohibition amendment continues to lead over that for modification and enforcement in the second week's returns of the Literary Digest poll of 703,833 voters."

"Of the total of 703,833 votes received and tabulated in the current tally, 281,838, or slightly over 40 per cent, favor repeal of the amendment and the Volstead law."

"The balance, 421,995 votes, are for strict enforcement."

"These second returns are from 70 states and the District of Columbia. Last week's returns showed a total tabulation of 291,538 votes from 10 states."

KANSAS LEADS DRYS
Kansas, the home of the late Carrie Nation, is the only state at this time which shows the vote for enforcement leading over that for both modification and repeal.

Georgia, the first representative from the "Solid South" to forward returns in this poll, is rather evenly divided on the three questions upon which the "dry" halting is being undertaken.

The tiny domain of the national capital, District of Columbia, which, however, has no official voice in election, shows a vote for repeal outnumbering that for enforcement by more than two to one, with a substantial intermediary following for modification.

Connecticut, which together with Rhode Island, has not yet ratified the 18th amendment, votes for repeal over enforcement by over three to one. The Republican stronghold of Pennsylvania, also shows a same three to one vote to repeal the prohibition laws.

RETURNS ARE MEAGER

The recognized "wet" states of New York, New Jersey and Illinois register vigorous opposition to the dry enactment, while the vote so far from the "farm belt" of the middle West shows a strong tendency for enforcement.

On the Pacific coast the earliest returns from this section show Washington and Oregon voting strongly dry though the combined modification and repeal vote is larger, while in California the vote for repeal and also that for modification is larger than the tally for enforcement.

The returns are yet very meager compared with the total vote that anticipated before the final tabulations are obtainable. The Literary Digest states: "Next week may tell a different story."

"The drys are on their mettle," it reads. "Letters coming in to the Digest breathe the fervor with which they are playing their part in the poll, and dry newspaper editorials indicate the same strong attitude."

Two-Thirds of Yale Men Ranked as Abstainers

New Haven, March 20 (INS)—A surprising prevalence of temperance is shown in the recent Yale poll on drinking among students here, according to Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale. Writing in Yale Daily News today, Prof. Fisher says the poll also shows "two-thirds of the student body would rank, in life insurance statistics, as abstainers, while most of the rest are what used to be called 'temperate'."

The professor "wished it could be known that the 71 per cent of Yale students who are said to 'drink do not drink' in the sense the older generation have been led to believe."

Prof. Fisher declared "present day college men are not qualified to pass judgment" on the prohibition question. Only those who recall pre-prohibition days can do that, he said.

The Yale Daily News announced today that 85 per cent of the parents of students answering its questions drink at home. Because 17 per cent of the non-drinking students have parents who do not drink at home, the News sees a direct connection between prohibition at home and prohibition away from home.

BARTLETT SAYS STATE OWES HIM $597

Concord, N. H., March 20 (AP)—Counsel for Mott M. Bartlett, former state commissioner of fish and game, now on trial here on a charge of embezzling state funds, today introduced in evidence figures designed to show the state still owes the former commissioner $597.85 for expenses.

Bartlett, who testified yesterday, took the witness stand again today. He said his salary was $5000 a year and that his brother, John M. Bartlett, former Governor and now chairman of the International Boundary Commission, frequently gave him money during a period of two years.

He denied he intended to defraud the state and said he never attempted to conceal the sale of a boat for which $500 was paid and which the prosecution alleged Bartlett converted to his own use.

Atty-Gen. Davis today asked Bartlett why he had taken money from the department cash drawer for expenses when he could have turned in vouchers. The former commissioner said he never had used vouchers.

The attorney-general sought then to show that withdrawal of money by Bartlett from the department funds for expenses would reduce the amount claimed due Bartlett from $597.85 to $187.85.

The first two were arraigned in East Brookfield court, Beauregard in Worcester. All pleaded guilty to breaking and entering a gasoline filling station at Spencer, where $253 was obtained.

Curley Is Urged to Balk Cement Tariff

A new appeal to use influence to block the imposition of a tariff on imported cement was made to Mayor Curley today by officials of Rogers & Webb, ship brokers and agents.

The firm points out that a tariff on cement would result in hardship for longshoremen, dock workers and towboat company employees and cause a loss of $100,000 in wages.

Club Heads Held in Liquor Seizure

CAPITAL SOON IN GAY BLOOM
Washington, March 20 (AP)—The Japanese cherry blossoms, which early last thousands of visitors to Washington, soon will be flourishing their branches of springtime.
By April 1 more than 800 single flowering trees on West Potomac Park probably will be in full bloom, Charles Henlock, chief of the horticultural division of public buildings and grounds, said today. Heavy with flowers and, barring too much wind, the blossoms should last two weeks.
Many of the single blossoms, Mrs. Henlock expects about an equal number of double flowering trees in East Potomac Park to open in full bloom. Turning the summit of pink, with color accented in greenish gold, they will retain their soft tints until about May 1.

Again?
Periodically she suffered; expected to be virtually an invalid certain days of every month. Then a trained nurse told her the story of Midol. A most marvelous medicine—not a narcotic—that actually eased each pain. Today, the woman who has learned the use of Midol regards the process as an old-fashioned harmless little tablet acting directly on the organs affected; in five to seven minutes not a twinge of pain remains! Midol is fifty cents, metal case.

Midol's comfort is not confined to any certain days or age. It relieves any kind of life. It is not felt immediately in cases of nervous headache, backache, cramping, hot flashes and all female pain peculiar to women.

Suits in 4 Styles Are Featured in Spring Displays
THERE is no denying it, Paris is finding these spring days more than "suitable" to fashionable. Whether you stroll through the Bois in the early morning or briskly wend your way down the Rue de la Paix under the afternoon sun, you find your eye repeatedly caught by the remarkable diversity of the suit model as it is being worn by the truly chic.

Suits loomed importantly in the recent Paris openings, with nearly all the big houses featuring them in one form or another. From models already worn it would appear that there are four general types of suits representative of the entire spring field. These four include the cape suit, the tulle suit, the peplum suit, and the suit with dress details such as the tulle skirt, the tulle blouse, and the tulle jacket.

THE suit from Lelong, pictured, was one of the outstanding successes of the Paris openings. Of pin dot, navy and white, the one-piece dress has short cape sleeves and a narrow belt fastened with small buckle. The tulle skirt, which is echoed in the skirt flare. Lingerie ruffles outline the shallow V-neck and the bodice, while the mousseline flower gives the final touch of chic.

Shantung, repeating the blue and white of the costume. The callid silk in envelope style in three shades of blue; and the gloves are of made in the very new long wrist length. This costume son wear, sophisticated, smart, graceful, feminine.

LITTLE jackets during the season to come, will be smarter when they are not so obviously "separate" as they were last year. Definite relationships between jackets and the frocks beneath were noticeably predominant at Palm Beach.

Frocks of every type wear jackets. Sleeveless sports frocks are frequently accompanied by matching jackets. Afternoon and evening gowns wear matching coats or jackets of a companion color, or vividly contrasting tone. Whether you would or not depends upon yourself, but if you wished you could choose a peplumed suit or frock for every occasion of the day or evening. The peplum has received the full endorsement of the mode. Repeating in the morning with the informal suit or the lush frock and appearing at other hours on the dress of fat crepe and on the formal gown, the peplum invades all fashions of the season. Closely allied to it in style, tiers and flounces are almost equally popular.

YOU can wear flowers again, which as it should be in the spring. You can wear them in bunches or singly. They can be large and soft or small and tailored. They can be of the same color as your frock or they can be a soft contrast. A sprig of this will decorate your tulle or will soften your evening gown. For your suits, choose compact little boutonnieres made of tightly curled feathers, or wear a sprightly spray of tiny flowers in the valley.

For your gowns all sorts of blossoms can be chosen and they can be used in a variety of ways.

PHYSICAL GAIN BY WOMEN LAUDED

That the modern woman is vastly superior to the woman of 300 years ago, physically, but not spiritually, was the claim made by Mrs. Frank B. Tupper of San Francisco, who was formerly a member of the B. U. faculty, in her address on the "Women of Yesterday and Today" before the crowd at Boston University's College of Practical Arts and Letters.

"In order to appreciate the present, we must look to the past," Mrs. Tupper said. "People are now coming from all parts of the world to be educated in this country, which 300 years ago had no educational advantages whatsoever. The advantage of women has been advantageous."

Giving a comparison of women of 300 years ago with those of today, Mrs. Tupper said: "The modern woman is vastly superior physically. Women are better athletes than they were. Statistics of Mt. Holyoke College show that students getting A and B grades in gym classes also get A's and B's in their scholastic work."

She pointed out that this may not be due to the fact that they exercise their bodies, but that it appears to help keep their minds more alert and clear.

In comparing the modern woman with the woman of 300 years ago on a spiritual basis, she told the students: "In this respect we do not compare very well with the woman of yesterday. However, we do have more women in the field. They occupy pulpits and other important church positions."

Mrs. Tupper concluded her remarks with the declaration that there is too much stress today on education to get dollars when the real essence of it should be to make better women the keynote of education being service.

Dr. H. E. Barnard, director of the White House conference on child health and protection, told the Indiana section of the American Waterworks Association.

Thousands of children will find infection and disease awaiting them when they dive into swimming pools this summer, despite the efforts of the water companies and municipal authorities, he said.

DOHENY CASE NEARS JURY

Washington, March 20 (AP)—Opening final arguments in the Doheny bribery trial, Alvin Pomereoy, government prosecutor, today told the jury Edward L. Doheny bribed Albert B. Fall when he sent him $100,000 prior to receiving a lease to the Elk Hills naval oil reserve.

Doheny denied the money was a bribe to influence Fall, when awarded of the Elk Hills reserve. Fall was convicted last October of receiving the bribe. The defense, however, won a point after it was agreed that Justice William H. Taft in his charge to the jury would instruct it that even if Fall were guilty of receiving a bribe, Doheny might not be guilty of giving it.

Navy May Discharge All Parrots! Batten Down Your Ears!

Washington, March 20 (AP)—A drastic order that all parrots be immediately discharged from the United States Navy has been handed down by Acting Secretary Jahnke.

Letters From Readers

Something to Think About

Editor Boston American:

Women of Boston! Don't forget to honor the name of Anne Bradstreet the coming year. She is the outstanding New England poet of the early colonial period. Writing poetry with a lot of man giving the general store stave talk in a country village was no easy task.

She is the "early apostle of freedom, avenging angel, vitriol-tongued champion of the oppressed, a fighter for women's rights as well as men's," as a writer of that period classifies her.

No tercentenary will mean anything until Anne is rescued from the past and made to live over again, the first woman colonist to take up versifying as a vocation. Don't forget Anne! MRS. JOHN H. ROGERS.

Walking Wrong Way May Cripple Race

Editor Boston American:

The growing popularity of cane carrying is noticeable in certain sections of Boston and especially among women. Women are carrying it like an ornament, or even protection from attack. I would like the other day that many women are suffering from fallen arches and cannot get along comfortably without a cane.

Anyway, more lame people are noted walking on Boston streets. So many have a limp and so many do not know how to walk. The increase of devising appliances for foot remedies and the demand for them in Boston stores, make it evident to me that we may be a crippled race, unless we learn how to walk and walk more. N. H. L.

Bishop Discusses Advertising Values

Editor Boston American:

Reference made in your letter column about advertising reminds me of what Bishop Hensley Hensley of Durham Eng., recently said:

"Advertising plays a large part in the complicated system of modern industry. In the simplest communities some forms of advertising must have existed, for no kind of human intercourse could wholly dispense with them, but in the vast and complicated communities of the modern civilization world advertising has become a feature of the first importance."

"Advertising in newspapers is the best source to get information and the best way to help industry and commercial interests."

This is the first time that a bishop of the Church of England has ever preached a sermon on advertising. The above quotation is taken from a sermon delivered in the Leeds Parish Church, before beginning his study for the ministry, the bishop was an advertising agent.

JOHN HAWORTH.

Experience Greatest Asset in Business

Editor Boston American:

Can business be taught in schools? This question was recently debated by a number of older businessmen. They thought business at its best must come largely through experience. George Y. Baker, who gave $50,000 towards founding the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, began his life work as a grocery clerk in Troy, N. Y., at $2 a week.

His sympathy with any new movement to bring about a plan to teach better business was very pronounced. While training in accounting and statistics can be obtained in school, the real education in business comes through experience. In the hard knocks and competition and in practical business relations. We are apt to make a business education too ideal. When the student gets out into the current of business, he finds that he has much to learn and unlearn. This is not to be construed as against a business education, but merely indicates that it cannot supplant experience. BUSINESS.

Knowing Evil Is Best Armor Against It

Editor Boston American:

The remarks about how to bring up daughters, quoted in your paper, coming from a social worker, are so true that they cannot be over-emphasized.

Her main contention was: Bring up daughters to know two things in life: good and evil. So taught, they voluntarily choose the good. We must not protect our daughters from evil in the way of hiding it from them, so that when they come face to face with it they go to pieces under the first reality of it.

COLDS

How can you get rid of a cold and its ill effects if you do not take a remedy maintaining laxative? Careful attention to the voiding of body wastes is very important.

To throw off a cold and prevent the serious complications which might follow, you must keep the body maintained at a high point of efficiency. It is the tonic and laxative effect of the laxative BROMO QUININE Tablets so successful in the treatment of colds.

Oldest Railroad in U. S. Dies at 91

For 79 years he was on the active payroll of various roads, during a period which witnessed the perfection of the "iron horse."

When Food Sours

Sweeten the stomach—Instantly

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach center has been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

Garment Workers' Leader Is Bombed

Cleveland, March 20 (AP)—The apartment of Mrs. Carrie Gallagher, president of Local 28 of the United States Garment Workers' Union, was bombed early today.

Mrs. Gallagher, who was asleep, was slightly injured as the door of her bedroom was blown from its hinges. Windows were shattered and the building shaken.

MOBILIZE U. S. FOR DRY LAW, SAYS ROPER

Washington, March 20—Revival of war time methods to mobilize the people for enforcement and observance of prohibition was proposed to the House Judiciary committee today by Daniel C. Roper, who was commissioner of internal revenue when the national dry laws went into effect 10 years ago.

"I don't know but I would go even further than during the war, because the threat in our constitution is more vital," he said.

Roper proposed that President Hoover call a conference of governors, reestablish councils of defense such as existed during the World War and bring federal judges and district attorneys into conference.

Calling H. Yost, veteran football coach of the University of Michigan, wired his sister-in-law, Mrs. Lenna Lewis Yost, that in his opinion prohibition had resulted in less drinking among the youth of the nation.

Mrs. Yost has been in charge of presenting the dry witnesses and she had the telegram read to the committee.

Roper, as a sponsor of the liquor dispensary law, tried and repeated in his native State of South Carolina, told of unsuccessful efforts to enforce it. Several wet witnesses had suggested a plan like it as a solution for national prohibition.

Roper praised former Governor Benjamin H. Tillman for efforts to enforce the law and said the avatars did not improve conditions, but made them worse, with moonshine stills and "blind tigers" multiplying.

Dispensaries closed in accordance with the law at nightfall and remained closed night and Sunday, but "blind tigers" remained open all night and Sunday, he said.

"The belief grew that the dispensary had degenerated into a graft machine to increase sales and make profits," he added. "The result was a greater consumption of liquor."

Furthermore, an investigation revealed a member of the State board bought $25,000 worth of liquor without regard to the law and the State was defrauded out of large amounts.

Daring Story of
Eternal Love
Triangle

Ardeith Carroll, beauty, lives in the drab home of her Aunt Stella. Neil Burke, downstairs, claims Ardeith as his. She is uncertain. She yearns for a fuller life. She quarrels with her cousin, Bet, whose room she shares. Ardeith sees the man of her dreams, Ken Gleason. Neil is furiously jealous. Jeannette Parker, society girl, plans to use Ardeith in a scheme for revenge. She opens a shop and engages Ardeith to run it. Ardeith sees that she can never marry Neil. Ken comes to the shop and meets Ardeith. Both are secretly impressed. Next day Ken takes her home in his auto. Sunday they spend on Ken's houseboat. Their first kiss.

CHAPTER 12
THE ark was casting a long sunset shadow, the air was cool and the bay had taken on a cold violet tint when Ardeith and Ken left the little dock shack.

Something of sadness touching the girl as they walked over the pier runway to where the blue automobile waited on the road. Some minutes after they had started, she looked back. The ark was almost swallowed up in the immensity of the marshes. Small... remote... Already a thing of memory... like this golden day—like Ken's first kiss.

She had had her perfect day... the wistful words of the song stealing into her mind, weaving themselves with the wild marshes and the sad sunset light. She did not realize she was singing them until she heard Ken's pleasant baritone humming beside her.

"When you come to the end of a perfect day... with your thoughts..." Ken's arm went around her. Her cheek brushed the shoulder of his coat. Something pleasantly muffled about that rough towel.

"For memory has palated the perfect day which will not fade. And you find at the end of a perfect day... the heart of a friend you've known."

Glancing down, Ken caught the hint of tears on her cheek. He stopped the car and tilted her face with one hand. "You funny, adorable cry baby!" She smiled but kept her eyes stubbornly shut.

"It's just the sunset and all. It's just that it seems too beautiful to last..." The words went on echoing in the man's mind long after they had been spoken. They were into the evening of the engine. Suddenly like the blowing of a lonely wind.

They stopped for dinner at a roadside tavern—a rambling frame house half hidden in live oaks and small trees. Ardeith turned to face the other. The up-thrusting of candle-lit faces, the soft glances, the young fellow felt his heart moved by her unusual beauty. He had remembered the roadhouse from his college days. College days, a name which seemed to be very remote—fantastically remote. He thought that life could change in ten years in a comparatively short time.

Years in the world and yet life was bound—seal and bubble. Ken could not carry out his own desire... that fate could set a man in a straightjacket of circumstance. Ken could not carry out his own desire...

They talked and laughed, as they had done earlier in the day, but something of that first tingling joy was gone. Ardeith slept on the boat going back to the city, curled up on the seat like a tired child, one cheek pillowed on his arm.

The man sat looking down at her and his face was very solemn. "Sweet little kid. Something touching in her utter trust of him. He'd have to be careful. He could so easily make her care for him. He'd have to be careful. He could so easily make her care for him. He'd have to be careful. He could so easily make her care for him."

Here deeply... and she could so easily be hurt. Funny, this man's tenderly naive, simple, trusting. Oh—why couldn't a man live his life to itself? He'd have to be careful. He could so easily make her care for him. He'd have to be careful. He could so easily make her care for him."

FOR DIVORCE

Arlington Beauty Granted Decree and $6 a Week for Support of Child

Mrs. Rosemond Fern Hallan Schmitt, Arlington beauty who 15 years ago eloped with the handsome family chauffeur, but was prevented by police from marrying him, has won her divorce from her dentist husband, Dr. Alfred O. Schmitt.

The decree was granted in the Suffolk County probate court by Judge W. F. Frost after a quiet hearing with no attendance except a few officials and witnesses.

The cross-suit of the dentist was dismissed. The woman's divorce action was granted on grounds of "fraud and abusive treatment." Divorce will become absolute in six months. The woman was granted custody of the one child. The child must pay $5 weekly toward the support of the child.

Clarence W. Kowley was attorney for the woman. In the earlier stages of her court battle she had retained William Scharion, who withdrew from the case. H. W. Sullivan was attorney for the dentist.

The beauty and her husband figured in the news several times in the past years, especially in relation to a charge that she had eloped with her chauffeur with non-support of herself and child.

"He gave me only $18 in two months," she told the judge. A finding of guilty was imposed against the dentist, but was aside when he agreed to give her $5 weekly.

In the earlier court battles, the dentist announced he would fight the case. He alleged the Arlington beauty had conspired with him the fact of her attempted runaway marriage to the chauffeur, and also the fact of her marriage to a war-time lieutenant.

Schmitt is a native of Germany, a graduate of Munich University. They first met in Boston in 1921 and were married by a justice of the peace.

Throwing open all taxicab stands in the city to all licensed operators was urged at a legislative hearing today by Councillor Robert G. Wilson, Jr., of Boston.

In supporting the Kennison bill, which would permit any holder of a license to operate a taxicab at hotels, railroad stations, and other places where the business is the most lucrative.

"You can't get up to a curb at a hotel or a railroad station today to buy a package of cigarettes if you are driving your own car," he complained.

Not satisfied with driving out the I. O. T. A., he continued, these favored cab companies want to drive "you and me from 20-minute parking in the downtown section."

The committee was scheduled to discuss the report made by a special committee, the majority of which favored the retention of closed stands. Senator George D. Mowse of Waltham, chairman of the special committee, however, agreed a postponement until next Tuesday. He said that counsel has had time to prepare a draft of legislation proposed.

The committee was told by George N. Dwyer, treasurer of the I. O. T. A., that the black market crash of last year had cut the taxi business in half.

SONNENBERG DEFEATS MAT TITLE

By JACK CONWAY

GUS SONNENBERG is fighting with his back against the well known will as when he defends his title as world's heavyweight wrestling champion against Henri Diglane at the Arena tonight. It will be the most severe mat test Sonnenberg has had since he won the championship from Strangler Lewis at the Boston Garden a year ago last January.

Sonnenberg is a 10 to 1 favorite. Diglane, a Frenchman, has a "national" record. He has topped all opposition in impressive style for the Frenchman.

He is smaller than Sonnenberg, but strong and aggressive as the champion and the mat title will be on hand when the two grapplers meet in the ring.

There is tremendous interest in tonight's bout, and it is expected that a large crowd will be on hand when the two grapplers meet in the ring.

TIME TRAILS FOR 'CREW' SATURDAY

NOW that Harvard's navy has been pared down to three variety athletes, Coach Charlie Whitehead is ready to give his Crimson crewmen their first racing trials Saturday.

Time trials will be held in the Charles river basin, and the results of these races will probably determine Harvard's 1930 variety eight.

The fight for stroke's position in this year's variety boat has narrowed down to a three-cornered battle among Jimmy Lawrence, Phil Watts and Frank Coloredo-Manfield.

Coloredo-Manfield has a slight edge over Lawrence and Watts. He recently supplanted Morris Brown at stroke in Crew B, which has Capt. Lawrence Dickey at No. 3.

Make-Up of Variety Shell Announced

Whitehead has finally announced what his first-string eight will be. The variety "B" boat which is stroked by Coloredo-Manfield has Tom Page, bow; Stan Shaw, 2; Tom Armstrong, 3; Grinnell, 4; Johnson, 5; Whaler, 6; Capt. Dickey, 7.

The variety "A" and "C" shells were also named by Whitehead. "A" has Robinson, bow; Halliwell, 2; Sullivan, 3; Hooper, 4; Vester, 5; Donaldson, 6; Sturges, 7, and Lawrence, 8.

"C" crew boats Winttingham at bow; McKesson, 2; Erison, 3; Rod, 4; Buckley, 5; Brownell, 6; Holmgren, 7, and Watts, stroke.

No further cuts will be made in the Harvard crew unit after the preliminary races which will make his final selection of the crew to face M. I. T. in April.

MONTREAL, Que., March 20

After six years of bitter rivalry, the equal of which has never been known in any brand of professional sport, the Boston Bruins and the Montreal Maroons will meet tonight at the Forum for the first time in a title series, which will determine the 1930 championship of National Hockey League.

According to the rules governing this series, the Bruins and Maroons will battle for the title in a series of five games, the first and second of which will be played here on Tuesday.

During the season, the Bruins have won 14 games, the Maroons 11, and the Canadiens 11. The Bruins have scored 114 goals, the Maroons 88, and the Canadiens 88.

With one exception, they acquired possession of every known NHL record, having failed by a single goal to equal the Canadiens' 114 goals set up by Les Canadiens three years ago.

Brins' Sextet Is Perfectly Balanced

The Bruins are a perfectly balanced team. Defensively, they are superior to the Maroons, for the Montrealers cannot offer any combination to compare favorably with the Bruins' defense.

Bruins Armored Hockey Is Rough And So, Popular

BOSTON'S champion Bruins start to prove it tonight: the boys will wear leadgear into the Canadian game—they have won most of their contests by headwork, so naturally they don't want their craniums cracked too much in this world series—the ice game isn't deliberately rough according to experts, but trifling accidents like broken jaws and severed noses are likely to crop up.

It may be that the ruggedness of the sport is the answer to the great appeal—the Bruins, it is said, are the toughest team in the league, not just in the game, but in the arena, too, as they would have in any other sport—Gonzo, it is said, broke up the greatest ball club in history; the team won't let the customers all do it—ed—but hockey always carries the chance for a free-for-all, so the boys and girls flock around the playoff system and refuse to lose to us, but it will draw a set of capably losses, so the boys' viewpoint is all well—it's a professional racket, where the roughness is most important than the sporting angle.

PRIMAL CARNAGE next set up will be the chubby, ruddy, poly Traffic, whose ring career consists of a decision over Ar the Great Shirts. This kavo pa of the monstrous Traffic when would be a bit of the fair r-cution of boxing, if there was a fair r-cution to boxing.

STORIES from Brooklyn tell that a big, awkward goal Babe Herman was on the ball club, but they can't tell the line to the Robin fans, who jam the stands to see the game. It's all a part of the holdout discouraging itself, but in the hope that the athlete will read and believe—Babe Herman thinks that the athlete is only his dud, but moon pitted when the slightest criticism is volunteered, he is inclined to believe that he has done about him, though he will deny it—many a smart man, who has acted his part in the game, but he is not the one who is intended to take the entire credit—but we will see what the athletes get at least enough for their not so strenuous as muscular work—baseball may be slipping, but the lowly Reds and Dodgers already have sold out their shares for the opening games—President of the A. L. is in the game, and down home runs by putting screens stop all the short fences will also cut down the attend-

Jack Conway

There are still thousands of chicken peas left, said Brown, it is possible to get 15,000 persons into the Arena, and there will be a sample game for all who wish to see the match. There are still plenty of chicken peas around, and as a result we can handle all last-minute requests for reservations for the P. C. M.

Sonny to Rely on His Flying Tackle

SONNENBERG will rely on his famous flying tackle. He is confident that he will conquer Diglane with this hold.

He realizes the importance of tonight's bout and is in the best physical condition he has been in for some time. He could afford several more matches, but he will devote all of his time to getting ready for the Frenchman.

Physically Sonnenberg and Diglane are well matched. They are both well set up and can straddle the waves and he does not believe Diglane's strategy will stop his winning drive.

Joe Malzewicz on With Count Zarynoff

THE bout will be preceded by a "bull" preliminary card Count Zarynoff colorful Russian star whose acrobatic wrestling has been the feature of the season, will meet Joe Malzewicz, U.S.A. pro, in the semifinal match, and in the preliminary, Wladislaw Zuyek, former champion of the world, will be paired with Dan Brown, who is the leader of the world's heavyweights.

Jack Conway Picks Sonnenberg to Beat Diglane

IT is with considerable doubt in my mind that I pick Gus Sonnenberg to win over Henri Diglane in the world's heavyweight wrestling match at the Arena tonight. I am sure that Sonnenberg is the better wrestler, but I am not sure that he is strong enough to win the match.

Infield Chief Worry of B.U. Mentor

JOHNNY INDIAN, East Boston's greatest athlete, will attempt to punch his way another step toward the lightweight championship of the world tomorrow night in the Garden, when he does battle with Vince Dundee, of Baltimore, in the 18-round feature bout of the great evening fight presented to moviegoers.

Indiano in action in the past picture in the ring, a crowd pleaser, if ever there was one, he is in the Garden once again. When he dashed back, Sammy Baker, in the Garden some weeks ago, the crowd gave him ovation after ovation as he whirled through the rounds at amazing speed, never clinching, always punching, always moving.

Dundee and Indiano will be forced to share honors with others on the card. Jake Zarnoff of Lynn will be in the 10-round semifinal bout against Joe Aceto, lightweight champion of Rhode Island. Germany is the reigning favorite of the Jewish fans, and has looked sensational since he returned from Florida.

Four-Cornered Fight for First Base Job

ED GILBERT, Ken LaPlante, Johnny Davidson and Melmore White in which the Concord youth will be handling himself both in the field and at the bat bodes ill for anyone hoping to out him from the keystone job.

The other three infield spots are up, however, and before the first game of the season, with Harvard, June 5, Gilmore will probably be the favorite to determine on the longest possible starting combination.

Cornell Baseball Captain Eligible

JOHN McNEIL, Cornell captain of the Cornell baseball team, has been declared eligible to play this season by a vote of the faculty committee on student affairs.

BC Will Have Hard-Hitting Outfit

TAKING into consideration Coach Hughie Duffy's ability to produce batmen and making a survey of last year's batting averages of the men returning, it can be predicted that Boston College will have another hard-hitting nine on the field for the coming season.

That the Eagles will have another "murderer's row" seems more than likely to happen. And as yet they have had but two batting averages—two occasions when the spring weather allowed the B. C. squad to practice outdoors on the Army grounds.

George Colbert, who led the college battlers of the East with an average of .412 is available again for the catching berth. This boy is a natural hitter and is due to pelt away again for a high mark.

More batting power is also likely to be offered by Eddie Gibbons, who was a reserve for Colbert a year ago. Gibbons has a chance to best Colbert out this spring.

HANOVER, N. H., March 20.—Dartmouth's intercollegiate baseball team retained its roster for just one day as Jeff Tappan, baseball coach, retired a new quartet for fielding and batting.

Red Sox Rookie Hailed as Successor to Tris Speaker

TOM OLIVER IS TALK OF THE CAMP

By JOE CASSEMAN
PENSACOLA, Fla., March 20.—If he can hit 300 in the big show, the Red Sox have the greatest outfielder who has been on the club since Tris Speaker in Tom Oliver, Little Rock rookie.

This is not only your correspondent's opinion, but the unanimous verdict of the experts who have watched him in action.

Manager Heilmann says he has seen Oliver down here and will be even a greater player when he gets on the good major league field.

Coach Jack McCallister asserts he is the best fielding first baseman in the American League in the past 20 years.

Syndicate scribers touring the camp agree he looks like the outstanding rookie of the season.

This observer has seen so many kids who looked like a million dollars in March, only to prove absolutely useless a month or so later, that he is usually very reluctant about predicting a brilliant future for any recruit, no matter how good he may appear.

He does not fear, however, to prophesize that Oliver will be a sensation, providing he hits hard enough to play regularly.

There's nothing he can't do in the field.

Almost Impossible to Hit Him by Oliver

Personal file on Tom Oliver, first baseman of the Boston Red Sox, shows him as a player who is almost impossible to hit. In fact, he is almost impossible to hit. In fact, he is almost impossible to hit. In fact, he is almost impossible to hit.

Niver Has Best Batting Average Among Rookies

It has shown plenty of hitting ability, too. In fact, to date he has the best batting average of any of the newcomers, and that includes such sluggers as Joe Judge, Otis Sisk and Bill Storer.

He hits all his drives right on the spot, and most of them "where they ain't."

He gives every indication of being a real slugger, and his 336 average in the Southern League, last year, leads one to believe that he is a classy stickler.

The only reason his hitting ability is questioned is because of his size and experience.

At 28 years old, and has been playing ball here and there for years, but has never before had a tryout with a big league team.

Harms Leader of Fordham Swimmers

Joe Harms has been chosen by the trustees to captain the 1931 team. Harms, University of Fordham swimmer, whose specialty is the 400 free-style and the 220 yard stroke, succeeds Johnny Layle, sprint star, who graduates this year.

GOOD GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON
Golf's Greatest Teacher

In the swing of a golf club the head of the club presumably describes a complete and perfect circle. But the actual motion is an ellipse. It is the ellipse that let us say that there are two types of golfers: the one who swings the club in a circle and the one who swings it in an ellipse.

The club, since doing so should produce an absolute straight ball. But the swing of the golf club we have the fact that the club plane is tilted. It is the degree of tilt from the vertical that your particular club takes. Obviously it takes some tilt, and whatever the degree of tilt is, it defines the oblique plane of your particular club.

Crucial Game for Tigers at Garden

MAKE GOOD AT FIRST

By BILL CONNELL
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 20.—Johnny Neun, who has taken over George Sisler's first base berth on the Braves, is a worthy successor to the slugging first-sacker of the Tribe of last year.

Neun was thought by many fans to be a mere rookie when he was drafted from Baltimore this year by the Warriors. This husky infielder, though, has had more big league experience than some of the Braves' veterans.

Johnny played with the Tigers in 1925, '26, '27, and '28. Before that he had several years of class AAA ball in the minor leagues. He had played in the majors with Toledo and Baltimore last year, he kept his eye on the scene of staying in strong league form.

A batting average of .267 Neun in 1927, his most successful year, was the best in the league. He was a valuable member of the team.

In 1924, when he was 19, he and Neun were in less than 25 games, and in those contrasted his weakened condition made it impossible for him to hit well.

Neun Played With Toledo and Baltimore Last Year

Last season, Johnny went to Toledo, staying with that club for a couple of months, and then traveling to Baltimore. His batting for the season was .267. He had played in the majors with Toledo and Baltimore last year, he kept his eye on the scene of staying in strong league form.

A batting average of .267 Neun in 1927, his most successful year, was the best in the league. He was a valuable member of the team.

In 1924, when he was 19, he and Neun were in less than 25 games, and in those contrasted his weakened condition made it impossible for him to hit well.

Hard Work Kept Johnny Fit During Winter

Neun is known as one of the finest court game officials in Baltimore. He has worked in 35 important college games, as well as a number of club games.

In addition to his hard work in basketball, Neun has been a basketball player. He has played in the Baltimore team, and that city is one of the centers of basketball activity.

Braves Will Play Detroit Today

The Braves today the Detroit Tigers here this afternoon. Bruce Cunningham is well rested and probably will bring for the opening five innings.

At Smith, with Providence last year, may get a chance to relieve the starting pitcher, Smith, 29-year-old, who has been working well lately, and who was probably well farmed out for one of the best of the season.

To Fight Again

Bordeaux France, March 20 (AP).—Andre Roussis, former featherweight champion of the world is out of the boxing game forever. Andre was on the verge of going blind but his sight was restored by an operation.

He will never be able to box again, Roussis said. "But I am going to become a manager. When I was fighting, my manager always used to say 'We can let that fight go. It was a little bit of a loss but it was a loss.' Now I am going to be a manager of the world."

CHARING SAME WORK MAKES MARRIAGE HAPPY

Idleness One of the Most Common Home-Wreckers

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
An Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Is marriage happier if husband and wife follow the same career? It is because so many other young people have lately been asking this question that I am going to discuss marriage. It is a very earnest letter. I am going to tell you what I think about it. I am going to tell you what I think about it. I am going to tell you what I think about it.

"After the Ball"

Loveygo - Beatrice Burton

THE thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts! The thoughts of youth are delicate, yet strong. Youth, in thoughts, in secret thoughts, a busy shadow you cannot see, lays the foundation of life, thought upon thought, dream upon dream. It builds with frail thoughts, may colored, darning thoughts, pure of worldly delusion, unassuming thoughts, full of night and beauty. Many youth more beautiful thoughts to help him build, and that is enough good deed for you.

Correcting the Child

High Blood Pressure

Dr. COPLAND, M.D.
U. S. Senator from New York.
I have received letters from a great many persons about high blood pressure. Even though I have written several articles on this subject during the past few months, it may be said that I am not a specialist in this matter. People are a little bit of a puzzle. I have received letters from a great many persons about high blood pressure. Good to Eat

VERY often my morning mail contains one more request for directions on how to whip evaporated milk. There really is a little knack about it. The chief secret of success is in the boiling of the unopened can of evaporated milk in a saucepan of water for 10 minutes. This is then removed from the fire and cooled, and while hot is put in a bowl of ice water. The milk is then poured into a chilled dish and allowed to become thoroughly cold. Two tablespoons of confectioner's sugar is added and favoring is taste, and now you're ready to whip your cream until stiff.

Loveygo - Beatrice Burton

CHAPTER 10
THEN he turned the car toward the Ambassador Hotel where they were to meet Major Bedlam for lunch. There was a whole row of little shops just inside the gates and the entrance of the hotel. One of them was an Oriental store, and in the window stood a little pair of jade feet exactly like the pair that Lovey had bought months before for the Tudor Road house.

Household Hints

To keep the cream in men's trousers, turn them inside out and steep down the crease with a piece of dry nap; then turn back to the right side and press, using a damp cloth. The crease will remain for a long time.

Husband Should Enter

By MRS. BECKMAN
1-When my husband calls for me at a bridge party in the evening, which consists of 12 girls, it is proper that he wait outside in the car until I come out, or should he come in the house? Several of the girls have young men call for them, and some come in and others wait in the car, and then, again, there will be a time when the hostess of the bridge party will introduce me to this girl or that, or perhaps, she will have playing cards and she admits him. Should I rise and walk up to him as he comes in and introduce him to my husband? Or should I wait until he has been introduced to my husband? Or should I wait until he has been introduced to my husband?
